Contrasting Visions of Forest Management

Is there a Common Ground, a common vision for the future?

Across Nova Scotia, a resounding call for change has been voiced. Current natural resource practices for all uses and all users are not sustainable.

The Forests of Nova Scotia.

How can we get from where we've been to where we want to go?

Do we really know where we are at present, so that we can begin to carve a pathway forward to where we want to be?

Where we were, not so long ago?

An important question to ask is:
Where are we now?
